5/4/69 Hepburn-Lamarre

Memo from Paul Rothermel says Rene Lamarre (who I had taken to be a relative, possibly a brother, in England, is really Herve Patrick Lamarre Terrand. If true, gets pretty complicated, for it means there are two HLs or the one in England doesn't exist is a creation of some kind. Seems unlikely, unless the one in England is using a cover name of some kind????

He also says Dave Kromen is identical with Don Morgan. As far as I have organized my files, I have nothing on a Don Morgan (com on enough name), although it dounded familiar. I did check.

PR indicates no sources. I had asked him to check out al the connected names of which I knew. He has some sources abroad. With the major interest of HL in oil, it seems to me he just might have some such.

What you think, Gary?
